

Save the Date!

2005 GEOSPATIAL WORKSHOP

Building Partnerships to Reduce Hazard Risks

April 19-21, 2005

University Place Conference Center
Indiana University – Purdue University
Indianapolis, IN

You are invited to join us for a three-day workshop focused on building partnerships for effective emergency management and mitigation.

The 2005 Geospatial Workshop will provide a forum for 125 leaders from colleges, universities, and communities to engage in discussions about ways to partner in local community disaster planning, hazard mitigation, and recovery efforts through the use of geospatial information.

An invitation and travel information will follow.