INDIANAPOLIS – The City of Indianapolis will host the second gang prevention and intervention summit in partnership with the Comprehensive Anti-Gang Initiative (C.A.G.I.) from 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 9, 2011, at the Community Alliance of the Far Eastside (CAFE). The summit will feature experts in the gang prevention field who will discuss signs and behaviors of gang involvement, the difference between youth rebellion and gang behavior, and provide resources available in the community.

The City hosted its first C.A.G.I. forum in 2010, resulting in an audience of approximately 150 parents, caregivers, and teachers who took advantage of the opportunity to learn ways to address youth gang involvement. As part of the C.A.G.I., the forum was a call to action to Indianapolis residents for the early intervention and prevention of gang involvement in school-aged children.

The gang prevention and intervention conference is held in collaboration with many agencies and organizations, including the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department, the U.S. Attorney's Office, the U.S. Department of Justice, and the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute.
